

- Being born as a boy, girl, or other is not a choice. We are born that way.
- It's natural and okay to be different from each other.
- We do not choose our bodies. Nature has made our bodies.
- Being different does not mean being unequal.

